Granato hits milestone

Cammi Granato, a centre on the Concordia women's hockey team, reached an impressive milestone yesterday. Granato, now in her fourth season with the Stingers, collected her 300th point. The historical mark - an assist - came at 9:04 of the second period in a game between the Stingers and the Northeastern Huskies at the Providence College Women's Ice Hockey Invitational Tournament. She set up Corinne Swirsky, who notched the game-winner. Granato then notched her 301st point by scoring an insurance goal at 19:12 of the third period. The Stingers won the game 5-2 and captured the tournament crown. Granato was named tournament MVP.

Since joining the Stingers in January of 1994, Granato has suited up for 111 games and collected 164 goals and 137 assists for 301 points. Despite the impressive numbers, another centre, Laura Leslie, holds the Concordia record for career points with 464. Leslie played six seasons from 1988 through the spring of 1994.
